DRAKE AUTOMOTIVE GROUP QUALITY MANUFACTURING STANDARDS

DESIGN

First our team of dedicated designer's and engineers use CAD software to conceptualize and fit parts to assemblies in virtual reality. We use a CMM (coordinate measuring machine) for precise 3D measurements on existing parts, along with data straight from the original vehicle manufacturer to create exact fitting parts from the start.

ANALYSIS

Next we use FEA (finite element analysis) software and suspension analysis software to virtually see weak stress points, areas of high deflection, and improvements in geometry to ensure proper safety and benefits a part will provide.

PROTOTYPE

Before we manufacture production spec prototypes, we use a state-of-the-art rapid prototyper to create ABS plastic representation parts within hours of finishing a design in CAD. This allows us to quickly test fitment, style, and refine our design.

TESTING

Then it's time to hit the road. In addition to offroad, street and race track endurance testing where we test durability, function, noise, vibration, and overall performance; we also perform salt spray testing, pressure testing, UV stability, ultra-sonic and x-ray weld inspection, hardness testing, ozone testing, and others as necessary.

PRODUCTION

With access to the latest manufacturing methods, we use only the best processes and do not compromise with any sub-par shortcuts. Finally, all of our parts are quality checked and inspected individually.
